With Password Protected and Data Encrypted .

Sure you had visited lots of different categories websites and registered as member for some of them with different user ID and password. How do you manage them? Here is the answer... Web Locker. This is a very useful Website collection application that not only stores all your user ID and password but also with Password Protection and Data Encryption !

Installing: Hotsync the WebLockerTrial.prc file to your PDA. You will see an icon called WebLocker on your palm. Select this icon to install and launch Web Locker. Several files will be extracted from the archive and the archive will delete itself. Web Locker will automatically run once the installer has completed. When you exit the program you will see the Web Locker icon.	 The screenshot shows a PDA home screen with a status bar at the top displaying '11:22 am' and 'Kitsiang'. Below the status bar is a 'Web Locker' icon, which is a green padlock with a white keyhole.
First screen: You will be required to log in with initial password: test You may change the password to whatever you like. Trial period for demo version is 15 days. After the 15-day trial you will no longer be able to use the program. If you purchase before (or after) the 15-days expire you will be able to register and all of your data will be saved.	 The first screenshot shows the 'Web Locker Version 1.0' main screen with a purple header and footer. It features two green buttons: 'Log In' and 'Change Password'. Below the buttons, it displays 'Email & Support: kitsiang@yahoo.com'. The second screenshot shows the same main screen but with a 'Password' dialog box overlaid. The dialog box has a purple header and contains a text field with 'test' entered, and 'OK' and 'Cancel' buttons at the bottom.
